AIRLINE PILOTS STAGE WALKOUT

STRIKE'S FIRST IN COMMERCIAL FLYING HISTORY

Action Taken This Morning Cripples World-Wide TWA Operations.

(By International News Service)

Trans-World Airlines' 28,270 miles of domestic and world-girdling air networks were paralyzed today by the first major pilots' strike in the history of America's commercial air lines.

The walkout was called at 4:59 a. m. EST., and became effective later in the morning as flights were cancelled in such centers as Washington, New York, Chicago and Detroit.

David L. Behncke, president of the AFL's Airplane Pilots association and spokesman for the striking pilots, said in Washington that 1,100 pilots and co-pilots were affected.

Planes Halt.

Behncke said all TWA air traffic on both foreign and domestic routes was grinding to a stop as the big airliners were grounded.

Behncke described the system-wide strike as a "last-recourse action" to effect settlement of a dispute that had been in progress with TWA for more than a year.

TWA is one of the United States' largest domestic air carriers and one of the three leading international operators. Its foreign air network extends from San Francisco eastward to Ceylon, India, and connecting intermediate points.

Board Cuts Pay.

Behncke said that the pilots final proposals made two days ago amounted to "substantially what the company already had offered during collective bargaining conferences."

He charged that the presidential emergency board Constellation and Skymaster pay recommendations, which the pilots rejected last September, amounted to a pay slash of as high as 24.7 per cent for some pilots and were 12.1 per cent less than the company had offered.

Under union proposals, based on a normal flying month of 17,600 miles for the Skymaster and 18,750 miles for the Constellation, co-pilots flying both types would receive a bottom of $309.62 a month and a top of $549.62. Rates for first pilots would range from $980.31 to $1,096.98 per month for Skymaster equipment and $1,070.76 to $1,187.43 for the Constellations.

PITTSBURGH'S STRIKE ENDS

Hundreds of Plants Resume Work at Full Speed.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Industrial life in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area swung back towards normal today upon the end of a 27-day power strike—longest and most costliest in the nation's history.

Hundreds of industrial plants resumed work at full speed to make up for lost production. Street car transportation was normal again and bus line operations almost normal.

For the first time in nearly four weeks, the Duquesne Light company announced that the 1,500,000 persons in the affected area could use all the electricity they wished. The current was voluntarily rationed during the strike.

With its 3,200 unionied employes back at work, the company started making repairs that were let slide during the strike. It announced that all the arc lamps in downtown Pittsburgh, which burned out during the strike, would be lit again within 24 to 48 hours. However, it will take probably a week to replace 7,000 to 8,000 incandescent lamps which burned out in suburban areas, a company spokesman said.

The Sun-Telegraph estimated the strike cost the steel capital "at least $300,000,000" in business and wages.

Conciliation sessions to end a 21-day-old hotel strike, also costing the city considerable business, resume today. The eight largest hotels here have been virtually closed.

CRASH KILLS HUNTERS

CHRISTIANSBURG, Va. —(UP)—A South Dakota hunting trip ended tragically today as funeral arrangements were being made for three Virginians killed when their plane crashed and burned atop fog-shrouded Christiansburg mountain near here.

Monkey Business, Says Chief

WILLOUGHBY — (UP) — "Monkey business," explained Police Chief James Bilison today.

A telephone operator called the chief yesterday and reported something had knocked the receiver from one of the phones on a four-party line.

The chief checked three of the homes with no results. At the fourth, however, he found that a pet monkey had not only taken the receiver from the hook, but had wrecked everything else he could reach. "I found him in the kitchen playing ostrich, with his head in the tea kettle," the chief reported.

Receipts Lagging In Fund Drive

Goal	$94,067
Raised	$57,046
Needed	$37,021

Workers in the $94,067 Mansfield Community Fund drive were urged to step up their efforts today with $37,021 still to be raised before the deadline Wednesday night.

This morning's receipts brought $2,309, lowest report so far from the uptown and industrial divisions. Industry's pledge of $483 today boosted the total so far to $34,337 toward a quota of $63,000. Uptown divisions reported $22,709, leaving $9,721 to be solicited in order to meet the quota of $32,430.

Latest industry to go over its goal is the Hartman Electric Manufacturing company, which turned in $433, or $13 over its goal.

WANTS REPORTS BY TONIGHT

W. E. Slabaugh, jr., general campaign chairman, urged all workers to report their donations to the Community Fund office by 9 p. m. today. He added that solicitations have not been completed in two major industries in the city and a number of smaller ones.

Uptown division nearest to its quota is the professional group, headed by Howard Doner, which has turned in $3,375 toward a goal of $3,480.

'Carmen' Cast Arrives for Show Tonight

Today's the day when Mansfielders will see Billy Rose's spectacular "Carmen Jones."

Curtain time for the production is 8:15 p. m. at the Ohio theater. A few remaining tickets for the presentation will be on sale at the Ohio theater box office from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m.

Sponsored by the Mansfield Shrine club, the road company, traveling in a special train, arrived at 11:20 a. m. on the Pennsylvania railroad.

One of the largest touring companies now on the road, the show is the same in cast and production scope as the production which took Broadway by storm four seasons ago. The take-off on the classical "Carmen" was rewritten for the modern stage by Oscar Hammerstein II.

The show arrived here today from Dayton, and will leave early tomorrow for Youngstown for a two-day stop. The itinerary of the fourth season run takes in 36 states and three Canadian provinces.

COLUMBUS —(INS)—Settlement of Columbus' three-week-old trolley strike hinged today upon an expected company reply to recommendations of a five-man citizens' committee.

AUTO WORKERS GIRD FOR NEW WAGE ASSAULT

Union Leaves Establishment of Specific Figure to Bargaining Tables.

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The CIO-United Auto workers today planned a new wage assault on the motor car industry, but exact demands were left for settlement over the bargaining tables.

Concluding a three-day conference yesterday, UAW's executive board limited itself to announcing it would seek "substantial wage adjustments."

PUAW President Walter Reuther said that although the board originally planned to name a specific figure to be presented to Chrysler corporation this week, it was decided that in view of spiraling cost-of-living figures this would be "unsound."

"The rise will be fast in the next 30 to 60 days so it would not be logical to set any definite wage increase figure," Reuther added.

The board said it would seek new contracts with all employers whose agreements have reopening clauses. This would include only about half of UAW's 800,000 members, but Reuther said he anticipated no difficulty in extending to all members any gains received.

Of the "Big Three" auto makers, Chrysler is the only company with a contract containing a reopening clause. Contracts with General Motors and Ford expire next spring.

The Union said it would "make every effort across the bargaining table with management to arrive at an agreement on a wage increase adequate to meet the needs of the workers and the nation." It added:

"In these corporations and plants within the industry whose wage rates are lower than the industry pattern of that division of the industry in which such corporations and plants operate, demands shall be advanced for an equalization fund to bring the wages up to the industry pattern."

Reuther emphasized that wage demands would not be static during negotiations, declaring "as costs increase we will certainly revise our figures upward."

RED FOES WIN GERMAN VOTE

Soviet-Sponsored Party Runs Poor Third in Berlin.

BERLIN —(UP)— The anti-Communist Social Democratic party won an overwhelming victory in Berlin's first post-war election, polling almost half of the nearly 2,000,000 votes cast in the four-party contest, complete official returns showed today.

The Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party, a fusion of the Communist party and Left-Wing Socialists, ran a poor third, more than 500,000 votes behind the social Democrats. The Christian Democratic union was second.

Voting in all four zones of the capitol Sunday was quiet and heavy. The voters chose 130 city council members and filled 805 seats in the 20 borough councils.

The Socialist Unity party (SED), which had been expected to finish second, even failed to lead in the Soviet zone. It was second in all eight Soviet boroughs and last in six American and British boroughs.

State and district elections also were held yesterday in the Soviet occupation zone outside Berlin. The Socialist Unity party had a plurality there in early returns.

Official totals in the Berlin election:

Social Democrats, also known as the Independent Socialists (SPD) 948,743.

Christian Democratic Union (CDU) 431,916.

Socialist Unity party (SED) 383, 182.

Liberal Democratic party 182,097.

Officials Predict Death of OPA Jan. 1 as Agency's Power Fades

The By-Passed Traffic Director

Flour, Bread Ceilings Go Into Discard Soon

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Government officials predicted today that the OPA will be abolished by Jan. 1 and said that the decontrol of flour and bread will be the next step in the gradual liquidation of the agency.

These officials declared that ceilings on flour, bread and other baked goods, and breakfast cereals will be lifted by tomorrow although Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is expected to deny an industry petition for the decontrol of bakery products.

The death of OPA by New Year's day was forecast on the grounds that administration leaders look upon the agency as a political liability.

They are said to feel that OPA has become so unpopular that the sooner it is abolished the better.

One plan reportedly being considered calls for the release of the 34,000 OPA employes by Jan. 1 and the transfer of all remaining price controls to other government agencies.

It was pointed out that controls over rents and building materials might be transferred to housing expediter Wilson Wyatt and that the agriculture department probably would inherit controls over sugar and rice if this plan is adopted.

Some Controls to Live.

Controls on clothing and textiles and a number of consumer durable goods such as automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, farm implements and furniture are expected to be retained for some time.

Should OPA be liquidated by Jan. 1, these controls probably would be transferred to Civilian Production Administrator Small.

Anderson is required by law to act before nightfall on the baking industry petition for removal of ceilings on bread and baked goods. Officials said he would reject the petition, but that controls on these products would be lifted by other action not later than tomorrow.

Restrictions on the use of edible fats and oils also are expected to be removed by the agriculture department within a few days. This action would result from the decontrol of fats and oils last week.

Present plans of OPA call for the decontrol of all foods except sugar, syrups, molasses and rice by Nov. 1. Controls on hundreds of other items also may be lifted by that date.

Russian Shooting of U. S. Citizen Violates Pact.

BERLIN —(INS)— American officials disclosed today that Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy U. S. military governor, will protest the fatal shooting of an American civilian official by a Russian MP.

JUST PENNIES

That's All Burglars Get at Presbyterian Church.

Burglars who broke into the office of the First Presbyterian church last night and forced open the safe escaped with "only a few pennies," Rev. David N. Roller, pastor, said today.

He reported the office and safe door were heavily damaged, but that no large sum of money is kept at the church. The burglars found only a small number of pennies from the Sunday school boxes.

"This is the third time in the last year and a half that the church has been broken into, and the thieves never have found any large amount of money," Rev. Roller said. "I'm going to put a sign on the safe door, 'We keep no money here.'"

Double Slaying Baffles Police

CANTON —(AP)— Revenge and jealousy were the two theories being explored, but police said today they were still without a clue pointing to the shotgun slayer of Mrs. Shirley Ann Robinson, 20-year-old divorcee, and Joseph Norcia, 29-year-old sports promoter and smoke shop owner.

The two were killed early Saturday morning as they left a taxicab to enter Norcia's home, by a charge of buckshot fired from ambush. The shooting occurred about 3:15 a. m.

New Reduced Airmail Rates Add To Volume Sent From Mansfield

Delivery of air mail from Mansfield to the major cities of the United States merely is overnight, and with the new reduced rates now in effect, more Mansfielders are sending letters by air mail than ever before in peacetime.

By Presidential proclamation, this week has been designated National Air Mail week. Civic and business leaders here have endorsed the program for stimulation of air mail traffic.

Although air mail traffic serving Mansfield has greatly expanded and improved during the last few years, officials expect still greater improvements if the city's application for feeder airlines to Columbus and Cleveland, now before the Civil Aeronautics board in Washington, is approved.

At present, air mail is forwarded by train to Cleveland Columbus, Chicago or Pittsburgh before it is transferred to planes If feeder lines are approved, the mail simply would be transferred at the airports connecting Mansfield with nearby large cities directly to trunk airlines planes routed to New York, San Francisco and other major cities of the nation

"I can visualize the possibility whereby, with feeder lines here, it would be possible to deliver mail to such points as Columbus and Cleveland in less time than it takes many cities to get mail from the city to the field," Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said.

Progress has been rapid since the establishment in 1918 of the first air mail route between New York and Washington via Philadelphia. Today there are 75,745 miles of domestic air mail service, and 211,702 miles of foreign air mail service. The average domestic letter now travels 1,509 miles.

Progress has been most rapid since 1940 For example, 13,808 domestic and 117,290 foreign route miles of air mail service have been added in the past two years

In May of 1941 there were only 166 planes operating on air mail routes Today there are over 700

The future looks bright. Reduced rates, greater speeds, greater volumn. Perhaps the prediction made recently by J. R Harrington, airport manager, that all first class mail will eventually go by air—is not too far off.

Mansfield is ready, with its magnificent municipal airport to "carry the mail swiftly on its appointed rounds," thus carrying to new horizons the United States mail service.

Air Mail Delivery Schedule

Mansfield post office yesterday announced the following schedule of air mail delivery from here to some of the nation's major cities. Mail leaving Mansfield at 1 p. m. will arrive as follows:

CHICAGO —(U.P.) —Housewives beset by sugar rationing welcomed the news today of the discovery of a new compound 4,000 times as sweet as cane sugar.

Peter Eduard Verkade, professor at the Delft Technal university, Holland, told the American Chemical society meeting here that the new substance is 'by far the sweetest substance known to man"

The compound he said, can be obtained easily in a pure state, is harmless to health, and is stable in boiling water and mediums which are not strongly acid

He said he developed the product in the Netherlands during German occupation but kept it secret until the Nazis had been driven from the country

He said the substance is being manufactured now in Holland and has been used successfully in several European countries

TYGERS TRAVEL TO CANTON TIMKEN

SPORTS ROUND UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — There's still strong resistance to coaches with a professional background in some college circles—as witness one midwestern institution which threatened to bounce a combination coach-instructor from both jobs if he officiated in National league games—but a quick check shows that such resistance is weakening badly . . . in fact, where you used to hear a lot about the Warner or Notre Dame "systems" of coaching, a few years from now on you may be involved in arguments as to whether the Halas, Lambeau or Owen system produces the best results.

Figures assembled by George Strickler, N. F. L. drumbeater, show that 72 former pros are head or assistant coaches of college teams this year. Of these, George Sauer, Kansas State; Mike Michalske, Iowa State; Cecil Isbell, Purdue; Rex Enright, South Carolina, and Bill Kern, West Virginia, are to some extent products of Curly Lambeau's Green Bay school . . . George Halas, who really popularized the "T" formation, can claim Bernie Masterson, Nebraska; Denny Meyers, Boston College, Walt Holmer, Boston University, Ray Nolting, Cincinnati; and Beattie Feathers, North Caroline State, as well as assorted minor league pro coaches like Keith Ranspot, Joe Maniaci and Gene Ronzani.

QUICK REVERSE

When Harvard's Dick Harlow hired ex-pro Harry Jacunski as his end coach, the only instruction he gave was "teach 'em to be big and rough" . . . After the first scrimmage this fall, Dick called Jacunski aside and told him to have his ends go easy so the Harvard backs wouldn't be wrecked before the season opened.

MONDAY MATINEE

Southern critics are criticizing the PGA for demanding $10,000 purses for open golf turneys to insure the presence of "name" pros and then failing to produce the desired players . . . Virginia Tech gridders say they stopped North Carolina's Charlie Justice in that 14-14 tie by shouting "give the ball to moneybags" every time Carolina went on offense. They say Justice, recalling talk of subsidies when he went to Carolina, got too jittery to play.

Eddie Dooley, the old Dartmouth quarterback, boasts that his 12-year-old son can swim a quarter mile faster than most adult swimmers. But can he call signals?

Mansfield Favored to Take Sixth

Coach Paul Snyder's Mansfield Senior high footballers will be favored to climb back on the victory wagon when they invade Canton Friday night to meet a better than average Timken eleven.

The Tygers, still bruised and sore from their 12-12 deadlock with the Massillon Tigers last Friday, are after a bit of revenge over the Trojans. In 1945, Timken surprised the Bengals 13 to 7.

Mansfield's 1946 record now stands at five victories and one tie while the Timken gridders have won three and lost three. The Trojans dropped their first two tilts to Barberton, one of the few remaining unbeaten-untied Ohio elevens, and Canton McKinley.

Coach Bud Jones' team bounced back to defeat Wellsville, W. Va., Uhrichsville and New Philadelphia. Last Friday they dropped a 19 to 12 decision to Canton Lehman as the Polar Bears pushed over the winning marker in the last six seconds on a 20-yard reverse.

Timken had a top-heavy statistical advantage over the Lehman eleven. The Trojans had 12 first downs to six for the Polar Bears and outgained the victors on the ground, 312 to 178 yards. Timken tried two passes, and completed both for 35 yards.

Four members of the 1945 club are performing for the Trojans this year. Three—Chuck Neago, Lou Williams and Jim Colceri—are backs and the fourth—Van Horn—plays tackle.

Only 12 major Ohio scholastic combines are still in the unbeaten class and three of them, including Mansfield, have been tied. Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Ohio's No. 1 team, was held scoreless by Cleveland Holy Name while Steubenville Central Catholic was deadlocked by Weirton, W. Va., 6-6, last Friday.

Dayton Chaminade ranked fourth in last week's INS poll, spilled Lancaster, 48-0 and seventh-rated Campbell Memorial mowed down Cleveland West Tech, 25-7. Both teams were also undefeated in 1945, although Campbell was held to one tie.

Lima Central punched Middletown from the unbeaten ranks, 7-0, in a game which saw the Middies held outside the Dragon 44-yard stripe. Central was rated eighth last week.

Remaining in the unbeaten class, Barberton drubbed Akron Kenmore, 39-0; Youngstown Woodrow defeated East Liverpool, 20-7; Collinwood was a 25-0 victor over Cleveland John Adams; Lakewood stopped Cleveland West, 14-0, and Akron Garfield beat Akron South, 12-6.

New York Rangers Threaten To Have the Last Laugh

The New York Rangers, who promised before the season started to climb out of their four-year tenancy of the National Hockey league cellar and then drew laughs as they lost their opener, threatened today to have the last laugh.

The Rangers were an improved team as they beat Detroit last night, 3 to 1, while Boston and Chicago tied at 2 to 2 in the only other game.

Cleveland Racks Up Seventh Straight All America Victory

The new All-American football conference is doing all right, from a financial standpoint at least.

The Cleveland Browns and Los Angeles Dons of the young circuit set a new professional football attendance record for a regularly scheduled game by playing to 71,1[illegible] fans at Cleveland stadium Sunday.

The undefeated Browns racked up their seventh straight win and disposed of one of their leading rivals when they downed Los Angeles 31 to 14 after the Dons led at halftime 7-3.

In other AAC games on Saturday night, the New York Yankees downed the Brooklyn Dodgers 21 to 10, and the Buffalo Bisons finally won a game when they defeater San Francisco 17 to 14.

Close games were the rule in the National Football league on Sunday as the two leaders, the Chicago Bears and the Washington Redskins, stayed undefeated. The Bears downed the Philadelphia Eagles, 21 to 14, while the Redskins rallied to nose out the Boston Yanks, 14 to 6.

Frank Seno of Chicago scampered 105 yards from a kickoff to a touchdown, the longest run in National League history, as the Cardinals dropped a 28-24 thriller to the New York Giants before a banner crowd of 50,681.

The Green Bay Packers defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17 to 7.

The Los Angeles Rams, scoring in every quarter, defeated the Detroit Lions 35-14 before a crowd of 35,000 at Los Angeles.

Yesterday's NFL total attendance was 168,957, fourth highest in history, and was led by the 50,681 at the Giant-Cardinal game at New York. Total attendance for the past three Sundays is 508,875.

Shelby Seeks Fifth Straight

SHELBY—The Shelby Whippets will be out to avenge a 12 to 6 loss from last fall when they travel to Norwalk Thursday night seeking their fifth straight Northern Ohio league victory.

Coach Grant Walls' once beaten Maple City eleven will be out to stop the Whippets' winning streak which is the longest in league competition since 1940 when Shelby tied Bucyrus and Marion Harding for the championship in the old North Central Ohio league.

Coach Al Fendrick's charges have defeated Willard, 35-13, Galion, 14-0, Bucyrus, 26-6, and Bellevue, 20-6, in league games, while losing to New Philadelphia, 21-7, and Ashland, 18-0, outside the circuit.

Not since 1932 has a Shelby eleven won a league title undisputed. In 1938, the Whippets tied Galion for the old North Central Ohio league championship.

Norwalk has lost only to Bucyrus, 12-8, while beating Upper Sandusky, defending champion, 13-12, Galion, 27-0, Bellevue, 47-0 and Willard, 32-13.

In other league games Thursday night, Upper Sandusky entertains Bucyrus; Willard travels to Crestline and Bellevue plays at Galion.

Tyger Sophomores After Fifth Win

Mansfield sophomores will be after their second grid victory over Marion Harding reserves tomorrow afternoon at Marion. Coach Fred Staub's Tyger Cubs defeated the Presidents 40 to 0 at Stadium Field earlier this season.

After extending their winning streak to four straight, the Bengals lost to a powerful Ashland eleven last week, 13 to 6.

Cleveland Barons Keep Record Clean

The Cleveland Barons kept their record clean in the young American Hockey league season but were forced to come from behind to tie the Ramblers, 2-2, in New Haven last night.

Both teams had been held scoreless until the final period when Ernie Trigg got by New Haven Goalie Jim Henry and tallied for Cleveland.

The Ramblers scored 21 seconds later and took the lead shortly afterwards. Cleveland's Fred Thurier knotted the count at 14:01 and ended the scoring.

Defiance Lone Unbeaten, Untied Ohio College; Oberlin's 10-Game Streak Stopped By Wesleyan

By DON STULL
(AP Sports Writer)

This topsy-turvy football season found Ohio today (Monday) with only one unbeaten, untied eleven left with half of the campaign still to be fought.

Little Defiance's Yellow Jackets kept their record clean over the week-end, but three other clubs with "perfect" slates were toppled into the ranks of the defeated—Ohio University, Kent State and Oberlin.

The Yellow Jackets almost faltered, too. They squeezed through with a 7-6 victory over Findlay's Oilers, but it took a 70-yard ramble by Dan Snyder on a pass interception and a forward pass that added the extra point to give Defiance its third straight triumph.

Ohio University's Bobcats bowed 19-0 to the Cincinnati Bearcats who turned in their fourth victory against one defeat.

Kent State suffered its first setback in four starts, bowing 13-0 to the Bowling Green Falcons as Dick Lowry turned two breaks into Bee-Gee touchdowns. He intercepted a pass and sprinted 60 yards for one score and went over from the five for another after End Wayne Bordner snagged a Kent State fumble on the five-yard line.

Oberlin's Yeomen, the state's only eleven without defeat or tie in 1945, saw its 10-game winning streak snapped by Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops who tallied a pair of last-period touchdowns for a 13-0 triumph.

Three unbeaten but untied elevens kept out of the defeated class. Mount Union's Purple Raiders to give the Raiders three wins and a tie for the year. Baldwin-Wallace and Western Reserve strugers upset Akron's Zippers, 12 to 7.

Ohio State, playing before the nation's largest Saturday crowd —76,025—wound up in a tie for the second time, too, when injury-riddled Purdue stood off the favored Bucks 14-14. Fullback Ed Cody, playing in spots because of an ankle injury, helped Purdue erase Ohio's 14-0 first half lead, scooting 30 yards with an 11-yard aerial for one score and going 79 yards off tackle for the other.

Once-beaten Otterbein, Miami and Wilberforce each turned in victory No. 4. Otterbein drubbed Ohio Northern, 33 to 6, to take the Ohio conference lead with three straight wins and no defeats; Miami coasted to a 28-6 decision over Xavier, the Musketeers' third loss in four starts, and Wilberforce swamped Philander Smith of Little Rock, Ark., 32-0.

Ashland, paced by Halfback Kenny Funk's two touchdowns, edged Wittenberg 13-7.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

THE THOUGHTLESS HUNTER

Two hunters sat in a blind. They were Duck hunters. They had made that blind with care. They had made it to look like its surroundings so that it would not be noticed by Ducks coming in to rest and feed in the great rice bed that had long been a favorite stop-over place with the Duck folk on their long flight to the Sunny South. Sitting in that blind the hunters could not be seen from the water nor from the air unless the Ducks should fly directly overhead. Out in front on open water just beyond the edge of the rice floated wooden Ducks. They looked very lifelike. They are called decoys.

"Mark," said one hunter in a low tone. It meant that he saw a Duck or Ducks coming that way. A flock of six seemed to be heading straight toward those decoys. "Five Mallards and a Pintail in the lead. We ought to get at least three of them," he continued.

Straight in toward those decoys came these swift - flying birds. Then, before they were near enough they turned and began to go higher. The two hunters ruefully watched them go straight on out of sight.

"It was that wise old Pintail. He saw something that made him suspicious. What it was I haven't the least idea. He didn't see either of us, I'm sure," said one.

"It must have been something about those decoys. When he got near enough for a real look he didn't like what he saw and beat it. What it was I haven't the least idea. They look all right to me. I guess that is just a wise old Pintail who isn't taking chances. Let's call it a day. We've got enough," said the other.

"Let's sit it out a while longer. We have only nine between us and the law allows seven each in a day," said the first one.

"If we can get 'em," chuckled the other. "And if you ask me that is too many with the number of Duck shooters these days. I've got four and have had some good sport getting them. I'm satisfied."

"I'm not," growled the other. "We ought to be allowed to take at least ten birds each in a day and be given a longer open season. The law is spoiling the sport."

His companion looked at him curiously. "Bill," he said, "there is something wrong."

"With what?" asked Bill.

"With whatever it is you think with," said his friend. "It isn't working. It must be out of order. It isn't the law that is spoiling the sport. It is fellows like you who mean well but don't think straight or don't think at all. The makers of the law have tried to be fair, but they haven't been."

"I'll say they haven't! They won't let us bait Ducks. Put some corn out there where the Ducks would find it and let them alone until they get the habit of coming and then we could have some real shooting. And they won't let us use live decoys. I'll say they haven't been fair!" growled Bill.

"There you are!" cried the other. "Bill, I've known you for a long time. You are the soul of honor. You wouldn't cheat in a game. In a fight you wouldn't hit a man when he was down. You would do your best to keep a friend out of trouble, not lead him into it. Yet you would use live Ducks to call and coax their own folks in to be killed. You would bait those Ducks, put out corn to win their confidence and then not only cheat them of the corn but cheat them of their lives. That isn't the real you, Bill. Your thinker isn't working right or isn't working at all. It is the Ducks the lawmakers haven't been fair to even yet. With more guns than ever before and fewer Ducks hunters are still allowed to kill too many for too long a time. Oil up the thinker Bill. You're cheating yourself."

"I suppose," said Bill tartly, "you would like to have all Duck hunting forbidden."

His friend grinned at him. "For say a couple of years at least, yes," said he. "It would be the saving of a great race of birds. With more guns each year and fewer Ducks each year there will soon be no need of protective laws for there will be no Ducks

STOCK PRICES VARY; BUYERS SHOW CAUTION

Wide Commodity Fluctuation Keeps Wall Street Uneasy, Declare Brokers.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Leading stocks jogged over a slightly irregular route in today's market.

Widely fluctuating commodities, brokers said, still served as the principal cautionary factor for speculative and investment stock contingents.

Trading in cotton futures was resumed following Saturday's suspension and losses of as much as $10 a bale were registered at the start. Bonds were uneven.

Resistant stocks included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, du Pont, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Southern Pacific. Transcontinental & Western Air common dropped better than a point as the company's pilots went on strike. Laggards were Youngstown Sheet, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, American Smelting, American Can, Consolidated Edison, Standard Oil (NJ), International Nickel, and N. Y. Central

Peek Through Engine House No. 1 Reveals That Local Firemen Keep Themselves Busy

By AL PREYER

"What does a fireman do when he's not fighting fires?"

This was the question we posed to Lonnie J. Steele, chief of the Mansfield fire department.

"Come with me and see for yourself," he replied as he led the way to the rear of Engine House No. 1, located at the City building.

We entered a room that can best be described as a "hobbyist's dream room." It was filled with men and machines—tools and toys—and a bench piled high with cigar boxes which, it was explained, contained the "odds and ends" with which toys and radios are repaired.

Gathered around a bright-red lathe (it would have to be red, you know—in keeping with the general color scheme) were several of the nine-man crew which serve a 24-hour shift with Captain Virgil Norris.

"Meet the boys of the crew who work with 'Cap' Norris," Chief Steele said, and I shook hands with Dan Snyder, John Fleming, Irvin Remy, Chester Ramsey, George Gump, John Gutherie, Clarence Donnan, Wilson McLean, better known as the "Scotchman," and Bill Knackstedt.

"We work on everything," the men explained. "If it doesn't work when it comes in, it sure will when it goes out. Some time when it's a dreary, rainy day, and you've nothing else to do—come down and we'll teach you how to wind a motor."

"This activity is sparetime stuff," they said carried on after the daily household chores are done And the daily routine is no picnic. They report at 7:30 in the morning and do the downstairs work—such as scrubbing the station and their "rigs" (fire engines to you).

At 9 a. m there is a "drill" during which all the rigs and equipment get a thorough check, after which the boys become "chamber maids without the lace caps and aprons" as they troop upstairs to make-up their dormitory

"It all adds up to our being in training to make someone a good wife," it was laughingly stated. Looking at the polish and shine around the place I thought that some housewives might be a bit envious of the spic and span job done.

From then on—fires not interfering—their time is their own and one could see plainly that very good use is made of it.

Meals are prepared and served at the station by chefs of the crew—Remy and Dan Snyder. "The only way you can judge it is to have a helping," the chief commented. (Right then and there a date was made to take pictures around meal time soon!)

The boys are really fanatics about all sports although their duties don't permit them to organize teams and participate. "You see," they explained, "when you have to spend 24 hours away from home you want to spent the next 24 at home so that leaves no time for many outside activities."

"But we're 100 per cent Tygee fans," they said almost in unison.

Of course the firefighters are continually studying to keep up with the latest developments in fire fighting techniques, as well as keeping their own equipment in good condition

Getting up into the working end of the station, the alarm system was explained with its arrangement for checks and double checks for all alarms that come in.

"The newer fellows don't usually go to the phone as they don't want to miss the rear end of a rig as it leaves the house," I was told. "However, the old timers get the phone and get into their equipment before we leave. In cold weather we always try to get the fellows in their clothes before the wagons leave the fire house and that means speed plus. It usually takes us about 45 seconds before we're rolling," the chief said.

"We have an alarm system rigged up so that the boys don't have to be right by the phone all the time," it was pointed out. "I'll show you how it works. "Test run, fellows," he shouted. "No need to bother about this ring." Stepping to the desk he pulled a lever and a gong rang in the hobby-room.

The way those firemen instinctively started to their stations left your reporter with the very comfortable feeling that Mansfielders can be sure that their men are on the beam and ready to go at the slightest tingle of that bell.

COUNTY NEEDS HOUSING SITES

Board Still Looking For Place to Build Vet Homes.

Stymied because of the lack of a site, Richland county's veterans' housing project still is in the "consideration" stage, county commissioners said today.

C. L. Shoup, chairman of the county commissioners, said that a search for a site must be started again after the county fair board failed to approve the commissioners' request for use of part of the fairgrounds.

The fair board has met twice in recent weeks to consider the commissioners' request, but each time lack of a quorum prevented any decision. Those who did attend the meetings failed to agree on whether to grant the request.

Meanwhile, commissioners are still considering the type of buildings to purchase or erect with the $64,149 allotted to the county from state aid funds.

Commissioner John W. Selby said a Galion firm which is advertising temporary houses for sale at the rate of four units for $1,600. In addition, the commissioners this morning received advertising literature from a Mt. Vernon company that advertises units costing from $1,455 to $2,580.

Another firm, of Cincinnati, wired the commissioners that it would like to discuss the housing project in a personal meeting between one of its representatives and the commissioners.

The sheriff's office today released a list of articles stolen Oct. 11 when two Lexington stores were burglarized. The itemized report was disclosed in the hope of tracing the stolen goods, the sheriff's office said.

Listed as missing from the Kroger Grocery and Baking company store were 150 cartons of cigarets, 200 pounds of sugar, 80 pounds of butter and five cases of canned corn and fruit.

The Kell Hardware store was burglarized of a fishing rod, two Herd rods and reels, three fishing reels, three electric cookers, a tricycle, six Eversharp pencils, six or eight fountain pens, eight bill folds, artificial fish bait, a policeman's black raincoat, several stuffed animals, a large teddy bear, several pairs of gloves, 12 finger nail clippers and $12 in cash.

The thieves gained entry to the two stores, located next to each other, by sawing through a steel window bar and smashing a back window.

SOLUTION NEAR

Andrus Awaits Lab Tests in Goering Suicide Mystery.

NUERNBERG — (INS) — Col. Burton C. Andrus, commandant of the Nuernberg jail, said today that chemical tests are in progress in a closely guarded laboratory as the final step in solving the mystery of Hermann Goering's suicide.

The tests, in a United States army hospital outside Nuernberg, are believed being made on specimens of the Reichmarshal's flesh to confirm that cyanide was the cause of his death.

Andrus said the three-man army investigating board has completed its report to the quadripartite control council commission and is awaiting only the result of the laboratory test before announcing the solution of the puzzle of how Goering obtained the poison.

CHINESE OPEN PEACE PARLEY

Mediator Thinks Chance For Success 'Good.'

NANKING—(U.P.)—Chinese communist leaders arrived in the capital today to enter into another round of peace negotiations as a third party mediator predicted "a better than even chance" for success.

Communist Gen. Chou En-Lai and members of his party were greeted on their arrival from Shanghai by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Two hours later, Chiang and Mme. Chiang took off for a four or five-day visit to Formosa.

Well-informed Chinese sources said the visit had been planned three weeks ago and that it had no political significance. Chiang had intended to leave yesterday but stayed over another day at the request of Gen. George C. Marshall.

Chinese sources added that Chiang was prepared to return to Nanking on four hours notice if sufficient progress is made in the negotiations and that he can issue a cease fire order from Formosa if necessary.

Before leaving, Chiang held a 45-minute meeting with U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart.

At Prices You Can Afford

THE PRICE OF MEAT

As a consumer who is concerned with the supply of meat and the price of meat, you are entitled to know, right now, these inescapable facts:

Meat supplies now are at a record low. Supply lines are empty. People, who haven't had much meat lately, want it. But it will take time to restore meat to retail counters.

When there is little meat and everybody wants it the price is bound to rise. But more meat is coming in the months ahead, and as supplies increase and approach the demand, the price is bound to level off. That's the law of supply and demand in operation. Nobody can repeal it.

Nobody in the meat business controls prices. Consumers determine prices by what they are willing to pay for meat. That determines what retailers can pay meat packers for it, and finally, in turn, what the meat packers can afford to pay for meat animals.

Right now, of course, there is bound to be stiff competition in the buying of livestock. There are thousands of meat processors, all anxious to restore their businesses. Competitors in the business want all the animals they can buy so they will have meat to sell . . . and the best price will get the animals. There also is keen competition in the sale of meat because meat processors must have customers, and the lowest prices for meat will get the business.

So . . . as meat gradually starts to return shortly to the counters of retail stores, we urge consumers:

1—Don't insist on only the fanciest kinds and cuts.

2—Do shop around for the best buys in meat. There is as much good nutrition in a savory stew as there is in a fancy porterhouse.

It is the earnest desire of the meat packing industry that, as quickly as possible, consumers again may find on retail counters everywhere the kind of meat they want, when they want it, at fair competitive prices . . . like it used to be just a few years ago. Remember?

ASHLAND BAND GETS UNIFORMS, INSTRUMENTS

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Equipment Presented to College Musicians.

ASHLAND — Ashland college band, with 60 members this year, has received the biggest gift in its history, a complete outfit of new uniforms and its own band instruments.

Uniforms and instruments, representing an outlay of several thousand dollars, have been provided for the band through gifts from Mrs. T. W. Miller, H. Marshall Clark, Mrs. Ora M. Garber and the A. L. Garber company, all of Ashland.

The new uniforms will be worn for the first time at the college homecoming festivities scheduled for Saturday when a morning parade through downtown Ashland will open the program.

Instruments represent the complete variety necessary for a marching band and will be the property of the college. Uniforms are blue serge with gold trim.

Another gift to the college is a grand piano from Mrs. Guy C. Myers of Ashland for use in the college music department, housed in the Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Myers Memorial building. The building itself, the spacious old residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Myers, was given to the college several years ago by the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Myers.

72-Year-Old German Society Closes Its Books at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — The Deutsche Gesellschaft, for the last 72 years a German organization here, has dissolved, sold its holdings, which included a three-story downtown building, and divided the proceeds among the remaining membership of 65.

The organization was founded by John Schaber, F. A. Vollrath, Charles F. Welp, F. Weichold, George Donnenwirth, jr., George Mader, David Sheeley, and Charles Metzger on March 23, 1874.

Purpose of the organization was to greet German immigrants who settled in Bucyrus, help them learn the English language and provide entertainment for them by holding social events such as dances and picnics. At one time the organization had 250 members.

Membership dues, based on the member's age, ranged from $4 to $7, and $4 a week was paid to members who became ill and unable to work. Originally, $5 a week was considered good pay for unskilled labor and the organization almost matched it by paying $4.

Funeral benefits of around $200 were paid, and at each funeral the organization paraded with a brass band. This practice, however, was discontinued some years ago.

RESIGNS FAIR BOARD POST

Atterholt Quits as Secretary of Ashland Society.

ASHLAND — James S. Atterholt, secretary of the Ashland county fair, has announced his resignation to become effective at the end of the year.

Atterholt stated the job had become too big for a "hobby" and he would have to devote more time to his regular job.

Atterholt was largely responsible this year for the success of the centennial fair which celebrated 100 years of Ashland county's existence with one of the most elaborate programs ever presented at an Ashland county fair.

G. L. McClaran, C. C. Burris and Paul Tugend, members of the fair board, will choose a new fair board secretary to succeed Atterholt.

U. B. Homecoming Draws Big Crowds to Day-Long Program

GALION — Packed with events from the Sunday school hour at 9:30 a. m. until the close of the evening services, Sunday was homecoming day at the First United Brethren church here. Former pastors and their wives, former members and friends of the church came from far and near to attend the services and the basket dinner at noon. Sessions during the day were presided over by Rev. C. V. Roop, pastor of the church.

First speaker of the day was Mrs. C. O. Callender of Toledo, wife of a former pastor, who spoke during the Sunday school hour.

At the morning worship hour, 10:30, R. R. Ehrhart, industrial co-ordinator at Fenn college, Cleveland, and former Galion high school instructor, gave an address. His subject was "England Today." Mr. Ehrhart was sent to England by the U. S. government in July, 1945, to help establish the Wharton American Technical school at Wharton, and then served as supervisor of training in the machine shop section of the school which had 3,500 GI students enrolled. While in England seven months, Mr. Ehrhart visited a number of technical schools and colleges as well as industries. When he lived in Galion from 1925 to 1934 he was an instructor in the high school where he taught shop mathematics. He also was director of both the high school and city bands.

The morning service was completed with prayer offered by Rev. C. O. Callender of Toledo, former pastor, and two anthems by the choir. Mrs. Carl Freeman is director and Mrs. J. A. Steele is organist.

A short program was enjoyed at noon when the basket dinner was served in the church basement.

With Russell Post presiding, the afternoon program was opened at 2 o'clock with a welcome by Rev. Roop. Talks were given by Rev. L. C. Reed of Marysville, former pastor, and by Rev. Callender. Other short talks were given by visiting friends.

In the evening a moving picture, "No Greater Power," was shown at the church to close the day's program.

Harvert Home decorations prevailed at the church. These consisted of canned fruits and vegetables which were brought in to be sent to the Otterbein Home for the orphans and aged.

On the day's program for other groups of the church were the district meeting at Attica, Ohio, at 4:30 p. m., which was attended by the Men's Brotherhood, and the district young people's meeting at Attica in the evening.

Play Finally Reaches Home

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—"Oklahoma!" is coming home for the first time Nov. 25 and interest in the production already has reached such a peak sponsors have had to call in police—to guard the tickets, not the money.

"We don't care about the money," said an anxious ticket worker when she called for help.

"What we want is an officer to guard the tickets — they're more valuable than the price they bring."

Sponsors said they already had enough cash on hand—$130,000—to break the national all-time indoor record for a legitimate production the Theater Guild said was set by "Oklahoma!" at Des Moines, where it grossed $113,000 during a one-week stand.

From the number of calls made on the Moose Lodge blood index in the last three weeks one might almost say that there was a "run on the blood bank," a lodge official said today.

Seven men were typed on specific calls in this period and five transfusions given. Members called upon for typing in emergencies were Jim Roth, Clyde Harden, Paul Kozik, Paul Ritchie, Jake Herf, Edward Wyllie, and Tony Santora.

The lodge is continuing its typing and is adding constantly to the large list of names immediately available for transfusions in emergencies All donations, which are for the general public as well as lodge members should the need arise, are given without charge, it was pointed out.

Each lodge member as he is typed is given a card with complete information on it that will be a ready source of reference in case of an emergency donation and in case the member himself should sometime suddenly require a transfusion.

"We are happy and proud that our program has received statewide, as well as local commendation," the lodge official said.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, Oct. 22.

The forecast for this day is an encouraging and propituous one, promising pleasant, profitable and progressive activities, both in the home, professions and as well in business and financial relations. In the latter there is a promise of gain in buying and selling, new deals or propositions of a very alluring aspect. But weigh all such proposals for a sound and long term effect, in which shrewd and basic formula and well-organized techniques may have power to enhance and stabilize future security, as well as increase current gains.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year in which propositions coming up for monetary decisions should be decided for their enduring and long term values, although for the time there is definite promise of lucrative, happy and promising associations.

Investments, deals, good jobs or professional openings may lure, but the far-reaching and enduring values should be planned, and on sound bases and well-thought-out chances for development. Such might apply to real estate, agriculture, mining or other sound investment, even a worthwhile job of artistic nature. The social, romantic and domestic quality is significant.

A child born on this day is blessed with fine creative talents, although practical, shrewd and astute as to future prospects.

PROSPECT MOTHERS.

Prospect School second and third grade Mother's club met at the school Friday to see the National Girl Scout training film; "The Girl Scout Leader."

Dorothy Kilgallen—

Those Fascinating Ages — A week ago I wrote a column entitled "How Old Is Ann?" in this space, and thereby confirmed what I have always strongly suspected: to wit, that women, who are as a sex notoriously cagey, not to say deceptive, about their own birth dates, regard the subject as one of the most delicious topics on earth.

The chit-chat occasioned by that piece in beauty salons, tea shops and similar sorority houses was, I gather from the letters on my desk, voluminous to the point of din.

So here it is. I love to oblige. (After all, I'm fascinated, too!)

* * *

Katherine Cornell is 48, and doesn't mind saying so in Who's Who. (Miriam Hopkins, Marlene Dietrich and Kay Francis do mind, but we shall seek to establish their birthday by the "tracer" or deduction method at a later date.) Miss Cornell married Guthrie McClintic in 1921, at the reasonable age of 23. She was only 19 when she made her debut with the Washington Square players. Miss Cornell makes no bones about her age because she is secure in having a public that will love her in December as it did in May.

* * *

Nowhere in all my research on the subject of the famous ages did I encounter more mystery and variance than in the biography of Ingrid Bergman, but since Ingrid seems to be a forthright girl, more interested in her work than in small vanities, I would be inclined to put the blame on her American employers. Back in 1940, an interviewer gave her age as 24, which would make her 30 now. About the same date another interviewer chopped a year off her age, leading the historian to figure out that she would be 29 in 1946. Also in 1940, a daily paper reported that Ingrid was 22, which would bring her to a mere 28 this year. But—in 1945, a gallant chronicler for the Post put her down as 25, making her twenty-six now. Anyway, Ingrid Bergman, who is so many fans' favorite actress, is either 26, 27, 28, 29 or 30 years old.

* * *

With Ann Sheridan, who never made Who's Who, oddly enough (those editors must be Harvard boys!), things are less confusing. The only time anyone was known to ask Annie-pie her age, she came right out and said "I was born on February 21, 1915," and she has been telling the same story ever since. Therefore by any system of rapid calculation she was 21 when she married Eddie Norris in 1936, and she is 31 now. Or, if you want to put it another way, older than Ingrid Bergman.

* * *

Bette Davis also has stuck by one birth date all her professional life. Every interview she ever gave lists her natal day as April 5, 1908. That would make her 24 at the time she waltzed down the aisle with Ham Nelson, her first husband, and 38 now.

Barbara Stanwyck is another lass who chooses not to be coy about her age. She steps right up and announces she is 39, born in Brooklyn (hooray!) on July 16, 1907. She would then have been 21 years old when she married Frank Fay in 1928. Check?

Galilean Bible Club Meets With Mrs. Rinehart

Mrs. Bart Rinehart entertained members of the Galilean Bible club at her home on Prospect street Friday. Mrs. Gerald Guthrie attended as a guest.

Mrs. Adrian Warner gave the devotions and Mrs. Mae Hollingsworth presented the lesson. Nov. 1 the group will meet with Mrs. Anna McVicker, Lind avenue.

Miss Sutherland Feted at Shower

Honored Thursday evening at a crystal shower was Miss Betty Sutherland, bride-elect of Jack M. Copeland. She was entertained by Mrs. Ray Sweeney and Mrs. Charles Kimmel at the Sweeney residence on Marion avenue.

Prizes were won by Mrs. R. Gerhart, Mrs. Kimmel and Miss Eileen Griffith.

Miss Sutherland and Mr. Copeland will be married at 4 p. m. Saturday in an open church ceremony at the First Presbyterian church.

MOOSEHAVEN COMMITTEE.

Members of the Moosehaven committee convened at the home of Mrs. Val J. Pagani, Park avenue East Thursday night for a Halloween party with Mrs. Virgil Hageman assisting. The prize for costumes was won by Mrs. Allen Martin and contest prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fred Lewis, a guest, and Mrs. Harley Jones. Other guests attending were Mrs. Lester Perry and Mrs. Fred Alacca. Mrs. Lewis will entertain the group at her home on Pleasant avenue Nov. 21 with Mrs. R. K. Simmons as associate hostess.

New Zealand Keeps Kiwi Eggs at Home

AUCKLAND, N. Z.—(AP)—The Melbourne Zoo has offered to send the Auckland Zoo a duck-billed platypus in exchange for a kiwi egg, and take the risk whether it hatched or not, but the deal is off. The Auckland Zoo would like a duck-billed platypus, one of the world's queerest creatures which lays eggs and suckles its young, but the government will not allow it to send the kiwi egg overseas.

The kiwi, New Zealand's strange wingless bird, is becoming increasingly rare. The birds are strictly protected and the government fears that if one egg were sent out of the country, zoos all over the world would want them and the number of kiwis remaining in New Zealand would be still further reduced.

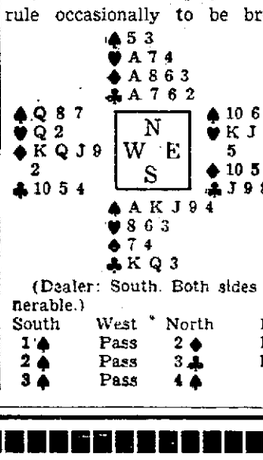
Barclay on Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Taking one of the top honors on the first round and finessing against the queen on the second is a good rule of play, when you have the A-K-J of a suit. This procedure protects you against a singleton queen in the hand of the opponent who plays last. But that very sound rule of play is also a rule occasionally to be broken.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♦	Pass
2♠	Pass	3♣	Pass
3♠	Pass	4♠

Following it may necessitate premature removal of entries from the hand opposite the combination and thereby hampering some other vital part of the playing plan.

That third bid of spades—normally indicating a six-card suit—was made at both tables of a team game, and consequently South was a spade game declarer in each case. Also both declarers proceeded to get set on their makable game, by slightly different methods, but in each case because they followed the rule of finessing on the second round of trumps when it should have been violated.

West led the diamond K at both tables, the A winning. Then both declarers played to the spade A to guard against a singleton Q. Back to dummy went one with the heart A, the other with the club A. Then came the J finesse to the Q, whereupon the diamond J was cashed by both Wests. One West also promptly led hearts for the two tricks that set the contract. The other West returned a heart to knock out the A. The declarer at that table then found he was blocked from trying for the 13th club to get a heart discard, so he also lost two tricks in hearts to get set.

Better foresight should have shown both Souths that the spade J ought to be finessed immediately after winning the first trick with the diamond A. If it failed, as it would, there then would be enough entries in the North hand to try for a split to take out trumps and then seek an even break in clubs to get a heart discard on the club thirteener. That sound play would have made the tenuous contract.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

The Pinsky Brothers, burlesque entrepreneurs, noted with alarm that their most famous strip-teaser's once cuddle-some curves were swelling into behemothian bulges.

"Maybe", suggested one, "we should make Trixie go on a diet."

"It's too late for diets," said his brother glumly. "What we gotta do is make Trixie stop eating altogether!"

The day after Clancy hit New York from County Cork, his brother took him over to see the Central Park Zoo. "Was ye be after likin' the menagerie?" asked his sister-in-law when he got back to the flat.

"The menagerie was wonderful and delightful," said Clancy, "but I couldn't stand the animals."

Lacks Arms, But Takes Care of Baby

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—The myriad tasks of a mother hold no fears for Mrs. James Corbett Beach, armless though she has been since birth.

The handicapped woman, whose toes are her fingers and who can play the guitar and drive a car, fondled her five-day-old daughter and declared confidently she would get along "just as well as any other mother with two arms and hands."

Demonstrating to amazed nurses, she manipulated a diaper, opening and closing the pins with her toes. When it was suggested she might not be able to deliver a maternal spanking to Peggy Ann, if needed, she smiled back:

"I'll just cut a switch and switch her."

Blond and comely, the 23-year-old mother was married five years ago shortly after her graduation from high school as one of the most popular girls in her class. During summer vacations she had appeared at fairs in New York, San Francisco and Dallas, Tex.

She'll leave the hospital next week to resume her house work and care for Peggy Ann, who is perfectly normal.

"Isn't she cute," the mother beamed, tweaking the infant under the chin with a toe.

On that toe—the second of her left foot—was Mrs. Beach's wedding ring.

DISPLAY IMMORAL?

CORDOBA, Argentina—(AP)—It's up to the provincial legislature to decide whether exhibitions of panties and brassieres in show windows are indecent. A bill now before the senate would ban such displays of female frippery on the ground they are "immodest," even when they aren't shown on mannequins.

Fail to Warn Of Vice Squad

BALTIMORE—(AP)—A woman bookmaker, nabbed in a vice squad raid on her apartment, was unwilling to credit police for her misfortune, attributing it instead to extreme astrological negligence.

Lt. Alexander Emerson, leader of the vice unit, testified in police court that he seized lottery and race bet slips in her apartment, plus a book on astrology.

Whereupon, according to his testimony, the woman told him gloomily: "If I had read that book today, I'd have known you were coming and you wouldn't have caught me."

TRY JITTERBUGING

SYDNEY, Australia—(AP)—Sydney's town clerk promised that a new elevator would be installed at the town hall as soon as one was available. One alderman suggested that it was ridiculous to have to jump up and down in the present elevator to make it work.

THE HARD WAY

Purchase of Tree Solves Wood Problem.

NUERNBERG—(AP)—One American civilian here found the solution to the local wood shortage when he wanted a local body maker to construct a station wagon body for his newly-acquired jeep.

He went out and bought a tree. The body maker was willing to make the body and install comfortable leather seats—with payment to be made in cigarettes, candy, chocolate, coffee and fruit juice but he had no lumber.

The American found the tree he wanted and bought it with two packs of cigarettes. Then he had it carted to the mill for another package of cigarettes and his jeep is now being winterized.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Whoever takes the trouble to analyze President Truman's speech announcing the "decontrol" of meat—these jargon words are becoming a national gullah—will discover that he wound up beating himself over the skull with the very bludgeon that he had been using on Senators Taft and Wherry a few minutes before. It was as though a ballplayer had been sold to the opposition in the fifth and wound up the game with a home run against his old comrades.

Early in his speech, Mr. Truman attacked "a few men in the congress who, in the service of selfish interests, have been determined to wreck price controls, no matter what the cost might be to our people."

Toward the close, however, he adopted the very arguments that had been offered all along by those who had opposed its continuation. Obviously, he had to insist on the wisdom of his decision, but, in justifying his own course, he found himself agreeing with the men he had abused. In honoring Taft and Wherry by name, Mr. Truman actually discriminated against a large number of deserving Democrats who had agreed that control was not only a failure but a totalitarian device and likewise had wanted an end of it. Inasmuch as this course is now vindicated by the president himself, especially by his hopeful view of the immediate results, these Democrats would seem to have deserved a little personal scorn, too, to help them in the current campaign.

* * *

"AS WE SPEED UP the removal of price controls," the president said, "the removal of wage controls will be accelerated. In this way, we shall move steadily, and as quickly as we safely can, toward a free economy and collective bargaining. The risk in removing meat controls is less than it would otherwise be, because production, in general, is now increasing at a significant rate.

"As the shortages continue to disappear," he then said "the inflationary pressures will ease and the need for government controls will cease," which is precisely what every advocate of the president's reluctant and belated course had predicted all along.

And next: "Abundant production is the only sure and safe road to a free market," which, again, is just what old Bernie Baruch, or his spook, Herbie Swope, wrote way last winter and not with any merit of originality either, for this wholesome platitude had occurred to the intelligence of millions of others long before.

It was undignified of Mr. Truman to dwell so heavily on "selfish" and "special" interests in referring to the ranchers and hog farmers who withheld their animals from the market in anticipation of higher prices to come immediately after control should be abandoned. He was here trying to imitate Roosevelt's employment of abusive language as a substitute for reason, but without the master's nasty knack or voice and in a speech which repudiated not merely some controls, but Roosevelt's dearest principle of government—control itself. He completely confused the two sides of the subject and changed sides in announcing that he, too, like these same "selfish" and "special" interests, was anxious to end controls. And he was dishonest because selfishness is no more active in the growers of meat than in politicians and the men who strike for higher wages, whose greed is encouraged and praised. This phase of relations between labor and industry of all kinds has been distorted for years, to the disadvantage of all concerned, and should be adjusted in the popular understanding for the general good.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON — (UP) — There seems to be a direct connection between politicians sneaking to work through the back end of a drug store and a parade of chickens into the Othman roasting pot.

The politicos are tired of this. So am I. My whiskers are growing feathery. Another week and I'll look like a Buff Orphington. Chanticleer Othman with a bright red comb.

This sorry prospect stems from a decree by the high priestess of my frying pan that hamburger at present prices is the same as no meat at all. She is not having any. Only food she'll cook is that which is reasonably priced. Chicken is reasonable. It is getting reasonabler by the hour.

I do not blame the Democrats sidling behind the aspiring, cold cream and teddy bear counters of the Mayflower Drug Co., for this. I claim only that their predicament stems from the same source.

For more than a week now 18 of the biggest hotels in Washington have been closed by a strike: 5,000 bellhops, bartenders and chambermaids have picketed their front doors.

* * *

THE DEMOCRATIC National committee maintains its offices in the Mayflower hotel. There is an election coming up. The Democrats have work to do, but it is bad business for politicians to walk through picket lines.

In the hotel building is the drug store. The soda jerks and the prescription clerks aren't on strike. The store, fortunately, has a door (in the back room where the extra hot water bottles are kept) leading into the hotel. The humble Democrats use this route to their desks and thereby escape the wrath of the labor unions.

What, you may ask, has this to do with my private chicken crisis?

Eighteen hotels closed for more than a week means at least 18 banquets per night postponed indefinitely. What do people eat at banquets? Chicken in paper pants. That's what.

* * *

WASHINGTON CONSUMES more chicken per capita than any other city in the world. That's because of these banquets. The chickens in this neighborhood have ignored the strike; they have kept on hatching more chickens. The lack of banquets has forced down the price until my bride says we can afford to eat nothing else.

She says these are peculiar times. There's no beer to wash down the chicken because of a beer truckers' strike, but she wouldn't be surprised to see champagne sell at 15 cents a bottle. (It's an ingredient of capital banquets, too.)

So be it. I can add only that I received a note a couple of days ago from a lady in South Carolina. She's eating chicken, too, but she likes it fried. Lately she's been using mineral oil for lard. The result is tasty, but she wonders if it is dangerous. I have suggested that she follow the example of myself and the Democrats. We lunch on boiled chicken sandwiches at the Mayflower drug store counter; for dinner we have boiled chicken period.

Bernat Pupils to Show Art Works

Approximately 180 paintings and drawings, done by pupils of John Bernat, Mansfield artist and instructor, will go on exhibition Nov. 9 at the Bernat studios, South Main street.

The exhibition, scheduled to last through Nov. 12, will open with a private viewing on Nov. 9 when attendance will be by invitation only.

The works of 36 art students will be shown. This showing will be the second exhibition by the Bernat studio.

MEAT FLOODING STOCKYARDS IN CHICAGO AREA

Livestock Supply Piles Up as Unloading Operations Fall Behind.

CHICAGO — (INS) — Chicago's Union stockyards faced a flood of meat animals today, seven days after President Truman removed controls from the meat industry.

Stockmen estimated that 20,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs and 8,000 sheep were in cars on railroad sidings or in livestock trucks waiting for unloading operations.

In Los Angeles, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson expressed the belief meat prices will be forced down gradually as the supply increases.

He hedged, however, on a prediction as to when the supply will increase. He said it all depended on whether cattle raisers rush their herds to market to reap current high prices or hold them for fattening.

Anderson declared in either event the supply should begin to near the demand within two or three months.

The flood of cattle still finds packing houses operating under personnel inadequate in number to handle the slaughter and processing of the animals.

Packers, forced to lay off skilled employes during the meat famine, have found it difficult to get many employes back to work.

Many secured other jobs and union officials said that some would not return until normal conditions prevail in the packing industry.

Railroads also found themselves flooded by the sudden movement of stock to market because of the shortage of cattle cars.

Observers predicted that today butchers will get the largest quantity and variety of meat they have received in months.

In some sections prices were expected to decline.

Gideons Present 700 Bibles To Johnny Appleseed Pupils

Between 600 and 700 Gideons testaments were distributed to Johnny Appleseed junior high school pupils today by the Richland County Gideon society which plans to present 4,000 Testaments to school children in the county.

The Testaments were dedicated at a rally at the First United Brethren church Saturday and Sunday, attended by more than 100 Gideons from the Mansfield area and state officers.

Distribution of the Testaments is being made here in cooperation with the national Gideons program. The Testaments will be given to fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils in city high schools. John Simpson junior high school will receive Testaments next month.

A spokesman for the organization said today that 150 Bibles have already been given out in the northern part of Richland county to the North Richland County Council on Religious Education. These will be used for teaching religious education in the schools.

Oldest interdenominational laymen's evangelistic association in the world, the Gideons began distribution of Bibles throughout the United States and Canada in November, 1899. So far the organization has placed more than 2,500,000 Bibles in hotels, hospitals, schools and other public institutions in America and in foreign countries.

ASKS NEW TRIAL OF MURDER CASE

Defense Counsel Charges Errors in Hearing.

Atty. Joseph A. Bayer today had filed in common pleas court a motion for a new trial of Howard Nichols, 20-year-old reformatory inmate, who was convicted of second degree murder last Thursday.

Bayer, listing seven reasons as grounds for his request, claimed specifically that the court erred in submitting a second degree murder charge to the jury and in admitting as evidence County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz's Exhibit C, the dictated statement of the crime given by Nichols.

The youthful inmate was convicted of the fatal stabbing of J. Avere Bruck, 18, another reformatory prisoner, in a supper line-up at the institution last July 18. Similarly charged is Lewis Murton, 20, whose trial will be held Nov. 12.

Bayer's defense hinged upon an attempt to show lack of intent, necessary for a murder charge, and an apparent desire for reduction of the charge to manslaughter. Atty. John L. Catlett will defend Murton.

QUOTA OF 688 GARMENTS SET

Red Cross Asked For Clothing to Send Overseas.

Two hundred and 31 home service cases, involving 55 army and navy personnel, 164 ex-service men and women and 12 civilians were handled by the home service department of the Richland county chapter of the American Red Cross during September, the chapter report showed today.

In the production corps, again headed by Mrs. Howard Houpt, a quota of 688 children's garments for shipment overseas has been received. This quota is to be completed by Jan. 1, 1947.

During September, 101 garments were shipped to the Red Cross depot in St. Louis for distribution to foreign fields and 31 knitted sweaters and 50 pairs of gloves were sent to the export depot at Middletown, N. J.

The report showed that a permanent roll of honor for nurses' aides during the war will be on display at national headquarters in Washington. All volunteers who have worked 2,000 hours or more between Sept. 1, 1941, and Aug. 14, 1946, are to have their names on this scroll. Mrs. Ralph Bisbee, 550 West Townview circle, leads the list for Richland county with 4,027 hours. Mrs. Clifford Beckley, Shelby, is second with a total of 2,195 hours.

Plans for the future Red Cross work in Richland county may include the organization of a Canteen corps for disaster preparedness and the preparing of meals for the production corps, Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive secretary, said in her report.

Both these projects have been discussed by the chapter here and it is hoped that they will materialize in the near future, the report said.

SCOOP?—

Newspapermen across the country were a little bit amused last night at Walter Winchell's big "scoop" in announcing the winner of the Lena the Hyena contest a day ahead of time. Naturally the strip had to be prepared and sent out well in advance of publication so it would reach all papers using Li'l Abner in time for today's publication. Any newsman on these papers could have revealed who drew the winning Lena several days ago—if he had wanted to break a confidence!

JOB APPROVED AFTER LARGER ONE'S REFUSED

Warehouse to Be Built West of Main Building, Company Officials Report.

Approval of construction of a $150,000 warehouse addition to the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company plant was announced today by the Cleveland district office of the Civilian Production administration.

The warehouse, part of the company's current expansion program, was approved on appeal by the company of a previous refusal by the CPA to grant the permit, the Associated Press reported from Cleveland.

A company spokesman said the proposed warehouse will be used for storage of raw materials. Construction will begin "as soon as possible."

Program Curtailed.

Originally the company had sought a permit to build a warehouse approximately twice as large as the one now authorized, but the government agency turned down the request, the spokesman said.

The building will be located immediately west of the present plant on Newman street.

The property on which the warehouse will be constructed recently was acquired from the Erie railroad.

The Associated Press also reported that the CPA had approved an application for $2,500 worth of non-housing construction from Gus George of Shelby.

The CPA approved $683,837 worth of new non-housing construction in northeastern Ohio last week, and turned down buildings of this type to cost more than $250,000, the AP said.

SON HONORED BY ALTAR SET

Dedication Service Held in Memory of Harold Yoder.

A five-piece altar set, presented at the First Methodist church by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Yoder in memory of their son, Harold, was dedicated at the morning service Sunday.

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner recalled for the congregation that Harold Yoder was killed in action while serving in the armed forces overseas two years ago. He was one of seven youths killed in action for whom gold stars appear on the approximately 200-star service flag that hangs in the church auditorium.

Rev. Stoneburner, in his sermon, "Living Stones," decried the fact that of the 1,800 members of First church only enough appeared for the Sunday morning service to half fill the auditorium pews.

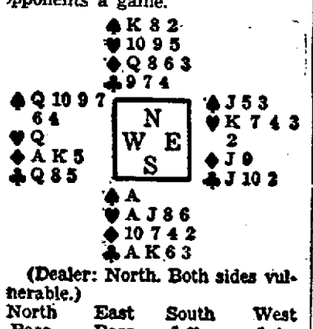
Barclay On Bridge

In match-point duplicate, a player faces a problem of thin doubles which would not even be considered in rubber bridge. This arises most often when there has been competitive bidding at low levels and the opponents finally make a bid which seems likely to be set one trick if vulnerable or two tricks if not vulnerable, for a non-doubled score of only 100 points. If you decide your own pair could have made its last attempted contract, of two in a major or three in a minor, to produce a score of 110, and estimate that most other pairs would have been left in that contract, your only chance to beat them in match-point play is to double. But in rubber bridge that would be too risky, as making the contract doubled would give your opponents a game.



(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♥	1♠
Pass	Pass	Dbl	Pass
2♦	Pass	Pass	2♠
Pass	Pass	3♦	Pass
Pass	3♠	Pass	Pass
Dbl

North at this table in a big pair duplicate was the most expert bidder and player at the table, and a stern competitor who never believed in giving any quarter or asking any. When the 3-Spades reached him, he weighed an assortment of factors.

With his even distribution, and no places for ruffing, he reckoned that his side probably had bid its limit by going to 3-Diamonds, a surmise in which he was correct, as it developed two tricks could be lost in trumps, plus one each in hearts and clubs. He also judged, from the sound of the bidding, that at many tables South would wind up in 3-Diamonds and make the contract to score 60 points for tricks plus 50 bonus for making a less than game contract—total 110.

North also estimated that the 3-Spades probably could be set one trick, which would net his side only 100 points, a bad score. So he chanced the double, which might possibly help the opponents to make their contract. But it did not, as two tricks were taken in spades, one in hearts and two in clubs. Score—200 points for down one doubled.

Bartender Barely Misses Chance To Serve Molotov Cocktail To Namesake, In Person

UNITED NATIONS HALL, Flushing, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Bartender Jack Edgan is a sad man—he's got a Molotov cocktail but no Molotov.

"He came in here the other day," Egan said, polishing the UN delegates' spotless bar with a towel. "He sat down with the other Russians and he looked around. But he didn't order a drink. He just stayed there a few minutes and left."

If Molotov only had ordered, Egan was standing ready and waiting. It would have been a historic moment. He had his Molotov cocktail all ready. It could have been served within 30 seconds. But he never got a chance.

"It's got vodka in it, I'll tell you that much," Egan said, "but after that, you'll just have to guess. I'm not giving away any secrets."

Egan, along with bartenders Artie Rice, Eddie Wright, and George Estey, believe that the delegates — by their drinking — prove themselves to be men of great common sense.

"They've gone back to the old solid days," Egan said, "and I mean before World War I. They drink cocktails of good reputation, like a Daiquiri, Martini, Manhattan or Old Fashioned. We don't get any silly orders here. No Scarlet O'Hara's, Mary Pickfords or anything like that."

The delegates from Saudi Arabia, wearing their traditional flowing robes, step right up to the bar and drink orange juice, Egan said.

"In fact, before meetings, most of them settle for cokes or orange juice," he added.

For instance, United Nations secretary general Trygve Lie likes a Cuba Libre.

"But only one," Egan said."

Egan said that his bar has enough liquor available "to float the City of New York."

"We don't need interpreters," he said. "They can all make themselves understood. The only trouble comes when it's time to pay up. Our money sometimes confuses them."

Egan normally works in a Riverside drive tavern which specializes in tourist trade.

"So this isn't very strange to me," he concluded.

New Camera Lifts Secret From Smoke

HOLLYWOOD — (U.P.) — M. W. Warren, Wright Field, O., reported here the army has developed cameras so accurate they can be used to determine the product of a manufacturing plant through colored motion pictures of its smoke.

Warren said the cameras, which already are in the blueprint stage, are technically far in advance of war-devedoped precision cameras.

At a convention of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers last night, Warren, a camera expert for the air material command, revealed the existence of a camera which can photograph 100 square miles on one exposure from an altitude of six miles.

The camera will be used in supersonic rocket and jet-propelled aircraft and projectiles, he said.
